

Dr Mark Fletcher

Mark leads the Global Water Business in Arup. He has over 33 years' experience working across the water sector. He was made an Arup Fellow in 2017. He was also made an Honorary Fellow of the Society for the Environment in June 2018 and a Fellow of the Royal Academy of Engineering in 2019. He is also a Fellow of the Institute of Civil Engineers, a Fellow of the Chartered Institution of Water and Environmental Management and a Fellow of the Geological Society. He was also a Royal Academy of Engineering Visiting Professor in Engineering Design for Sustainable Development.

He works with The Resilience Shift on the City Water Resilience Approach. He is Faculty Leader for the Arup University - MIT Sloan Business School Masters course 'Resilience of Urban Systems'. He has extensive international experience with a particular focus on water resilience (flood risk, water resources) and sustainable water management.

He received an Honorary Doctorate from Bradford University for his work on sustainable water management. He is Chairman of the Water Industry Forum and on the Leadership Council of the UK Water Partnership.