

IAHR WUHAN UNIVERSITY YOUNG PROFESSIONALS NETWORK

2022 Annual Report of Activities

Wuhan University
Young Professionals
Network

1. Our vision and mission

- ◇ Stimulating students' interest in scientific research is our main objective.
- ◇ Helping each other and learning from each other is our firm belief.
- ◇ Creating a good academic atmosphere is our primary responsibility.
- ◇ Having a global perspective is our specific advantage.

2. Main goals and key objectives in 2022

Providing a variety of online or face-to-face communication opportunities for our members and promoting academic exchanges across multi-disciplines.

3. Activities in 2022

Activity 1

[Picture]

The 11th English Academic Poster Contest

Date/s

23 April 2022

Venue

Wuhan, China

Objectives

To improve students' ability to present research contents to others by Poster, and to improve their English writing and speaking skills.

Description

The "English Poster Contest" imitates international academic conferences to provide members with a platform to present scientific research results and promote academic exchanges. It creates a strong academic atmosphere in the college.

Activity 2

| | |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| [Picture]  | General Assembly of IAHR WHU YPN Date/s 20 October 2022 Venue Wuhan, China Objectives To help new members better understand our membership rights and advantages Description New members exchanged and discussed their opinions. The advisors put forward their opinions on the organization of our future activities. |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

Activity 3

| | |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| [Picture]  | Academic English writing seminar series – hydrology, hydropower, hydraulic, and water conservancy Date/s 4 November 2022, 11 November 2022 and 16 November 2022 Venue Wuhan, China Objectives To improve academic English writing skills and promote academic exchanges Description Invite postgraduate national scholarship recipients to share their |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

English academic paper writing experience

Activity 4

[Picture]

Study Abroad Experience Symposium

Date/s

13 December 2022

Venue

Online

Objectives

To communicate study abroad experience and insights

Description

This symposium brought a lot of help to students who have plans to go abroad in the future, and provided students with a quick overview of their study abroad life and some guidance, which will help students plan their graduate careers.

5. Communication channels

Website: <http://swrh.whu.edu.cn/xstd/ygzx/iahr/>

Other: WeChat subscription (水研珞珈)